WHAT YOU NEED TO KNOW IN THE CARAVAN AND CAMPING WORLD

BUSH LAPA 1000

Bush Lapa Offroad Caravans is a fast-growing company – in seven years they have produced over a 1000 units.

The Bush Lapa caravan range now consists of seven varieties: Roomier, Vlooi, Kewer, Boskriek, Miskruier, Baobab and Ratel; as well as a camper for single- and double-cab bakkies, called the Bosluis.

The latest milestone unit is a Baobab, and to celebrate the massive achievement, Bush Lapa has again kitted out the caravan in a unique look (as they do with every 100th unit).

While previous limited editions have had only the outside of the caravans specially designed, number 1000's interior has also been given a special look.

The stunning exterior grey-and-yellow print was created by graphic designer Hannah Williams, on request from the caravan's lucky owners. Bush Lapa originally wanted to keep the 1000th unit for themselves, but when they saw the excitement of the buyers, and the extra effort they put in to get a really great design, they decided to part with the special caravan.

To add an extra touch of magic to this caravan, Bush Lapa had the interior finishings made to match the outside grey – from the carpets to the canvas. And even the unique Bush Wing awning has been specially made in grey, not the standard Bush Lapa khaki.

Rounding off the smart looks of this Baobab is flashy silver A-Line mags.

The owners have added a host of extras to their caravan, including solar panels, a Kexin geyser, National Luna fridge/freezer, a uniquely-designed removable bike rack, and more.

Congratulations Bush Lapa, here's to the next thousand!
